1. Brief content of the discipline

The main purpose of studying this discipline is to master the technique of logical analysis of the phenomena of thinking in the context of human activity on the basis of learned rules, principles and laws that ensure the achievement of true knowledge about the world.

2. Learning outcomes

As a result of mastering the discipline, the student should know:

- the main content of the recommended literature;
- the subject of the science of logic, its structure and functions;
- basic logical concepts;
- basic rules, requirements and laws for logical thinking;
- methods of applying theoretical propositions of logic to solving scientific and practical problems.

be able to:

- organize your own thinking taking into account logical norms;

- analyze logical problems in accordance with the requirements of this science;
- to solve problems of vital practical meaning using methods of professional activity;
- use the means of logic in their professional activities.
- conduct a dialogue, analyze sign systems, build text, etc.
- analyze argumentation procedures from the standpoint of their correctness and persuasiveness;
- to identify errors in reasoning and illegal techniques in discussions.

own:

- the skills of using the means of logic in their professional activities;
- the ability to identify errors in reasoning and illegal techniques in discussions;
- methods of applying theoretical and practical problems.
