

MODERN POLITICAL ECONOMY
ANNOTATION
TO THE CURRICULUM OF THE DISCIPLINE

Specialties: 1-25 01 04 Finance and credit, 1-25 01 04 Finance and credit, 1-25 01 07 Economics and enterprise management, 1-28 01 02 Electronic marketing, 1-27 02 01 Transport logistics

Direction of specialty: 1-27 02 01-01 Transport logistics (road transport)

Specialization: 1-25 01 04 02 Banking, 1-25 01 04 03 Taxes and taxation, 1-25 01 07 03 Business administration.

	Form of study full-time	Form of study part-time
	1-25 01 07, 1-28 01 02, 1-25 01 04, 1-27 02 01, 1-27 01 01	1-27 02 01, 1-27 02 01, 25-01 07	1-28 01 02
Course	1	2	1
Semester	1	4	2
Lectures, hours	32	8	8
Seminars, hours	22	4	4
Exam, semester	1	4	2
Classroom hours per academic discipline	54	12	12
Independent work, hours	54	96	96
Total hours per academic discipline / credit units	108/3	108/3	108/3

1. The purpose of the discipline

The main goal of studying the academic discipline "Modern Political Economy" is the formation of a systemic global political and economic thinking among students, the development of the ability to critically analyze and comprehensively assess geopolitical, ideological and social information in its relationship with economic processes, the formation of practical skills for solving problems of national and economic security using modern mechanisms for identifying, neutralizing and preventing threats and risks for society, the state, business entities, households and individuals.

2. Planned results of studying the discipline

As a result of studying the discipline, the student must:

know:

- the concept, essence, structure of the economy as an integral component of society, the subject and method of political economy as a science;
 - economic laws and modern patterns;
 - methods for measuring and evaluating the state of the national economy;
- the main economic formations, types of economic systems of society and the political structure of national states;
 - basic categories and concepts of modern geopolitics and geoeconomics;
 - modern interpretations of globalization and regionalization, patterns of political and economic processes in the global economy;
 - modern global and regional challenges and threats.

be able to:

- use educational, scientific, reference literature and statistical data in the field of modern political economy and geopolitics;

- to analyze and evaluate, on the basis of statistical data, the state of the national economy, its place in the system of global political and economic relations;
- critically evaluate political and economic information;
- identify and interpret key trends in the transformation of the existing world order;
- analyze various political and economic situations and economic interests of participants in international relations, the contradictions of the world economic system, as well as possible options for their resolution;
- identify internal and external threats, as well as conduct a comprehensive assessment of economic security (national, regional, sectoral, at the level of an economic entity);
- develop measures to prevent the onset of dangers and threats to economic security (national, regional, sectoral, at the level of an economic entity);
- own:
- conceptual apparatus;
- the skills of adaptation to new situations of social and professional activity, the implementation of the accumulated experience and their capabilities;
- critical thinking skills, categorical apparatus and methodology of political and economic analysis;
- an interdisciplinary approach to identifying and analyzing political and economic problems;
- the skills of independent and creative use of the acquired knowledge in the field of political economy.

3. Requirements for mastering the academic discipline

Mastering this academic discipline should ensure the formation of the following competencies:

UK-4 Work in a team, tolerantly perceive social, ethnic, confessional and ethno-cultural differences.

UK-7 Possess a humanistic worldview, the qualities of citizenship and patriotism

UK-11 Use the main sociological categories in the analysis of patterns of development of society

UK-3 Own a culture of thinking, be able to perceive, generalize and analyze information, philosophical, ideological and psychological and pedagogical problems in the field of interpersonal relations and professional activities

4. Educational technologies

When studying the discipline, a module-rating system for assessing students' knowledge is used. In the course of teaching the discipline, the following forms are used:

1. Problem-based learning
2. Traditional.