

MICROECONOMICS AND MACROECONOMICS

(course title)

COURSE SYLLABUS ABSTRACT

Specialty 6-05-1042-01 «Transportation Logistics»

Profiling Regional transport logistics systems

	STUDY MODE
	Full-time	Part-time
Year	1	1
Semester	2	2
Lectures, hours	34	8
Practical (seminar) classes, hours	34	6
Test work	–	2
Credit test, semester	2	2
Classroom hours per academic discipline	68	16
Independent work, hours	112	164
Total hours per academic discipline / credit units	180 / 5

1. Summary of the content of the academic discipline.

The study of the behavior of individual economic agents: individuals, households, enterprises, owners of primary production resources. The study of the functioning of the economic system as a whole and its large sectors.

2. As a result of mastering the academic discipline, the student of the second level of higher education must know:

- the regularities of the functioning of the market economy;
- the theory of supply-demand and the theory of consumer choice;
- the main types of market structures and features of their economic strategy and tactics;
- the role of the state in regulating economic processes aimed at the growth of social welfare;

be able to:

- perform calculations to assess the effects of non-price factors on market equilibrium;
- model consumer choice and evaluate demand functions on this basis;
- analyze market structures and determine the boundaries of markets for different goods and structures;

to possess a skill:

- using methods of calculation and analysis of economic costs of production, accounting and economic profit;
- application of methods of analyzing and forecasting the conjuncture on industry markets to achieve production efficiency of enterprises.

3. Competencies.

UK-1. Master the basics of research activities, search, analysis and synthesis of information

BPC-10. Systematize, analyze, summarize microeconomic and macroeconomic information to assess trends and prospects of the organization's development.

4. Requirements and forms of midcourse evaluation and summative assessment

The form of intermediate attestation (IA) is credit.